2. For which purposes and on which legal basis will your personal data be processed?

Website visits

When you visit our website, then your IP address will be automatically processed, which is a technical requirement in order for us to display our website to you. Your IP address will be subsequently stored in the log files of our systems for a maximum of 90 days.

The legal basis for processing your data in this case will be Article 6 Paragraph 1 Lit.) DSGVO. Our legitimate interest always lies in ensuring the functionality and security of our website.

Contact forms and contact enquiries

If you decide to contact us via our website, then we will additionally process the data which you provide in the contact forms or your contact enquiry, for example your name, your email address, your company, your company address, information relating to the desired training course (e.g. number of participants, existing infrastructure, existing participant qualifications, desired location of the training course, type of training course which is desired, desired language and number of training courses, project group, product number, type of vehicle for the desired training course), as well as your message, to us.

The legal basis for processing your data in this case will be the consent which you have submitted according to Article 6 Paragraph 1 Lit.) DSGVO.

3. Which recipients will your data be transferred to?

We will only pass on your data to affiliated companies when this is required for processing your request. You can find an overview of our group companies at:

<https://www.knorr-bremse.com/de/unternehmen/knorr-bremse-weltweit/>.

Furthermore, we assign affiliated companies and external service providers (so-called order processors) for the operation and support of our website.

We are permitted to disclose your data to other third parties e.g. Local authorities or other public bodies, when we are legally obliged to do so or when the disclosure is required for the assertion, exercise or defence of legal claims.

4. When will your personal data be deleted?

We will delete your data, also taking into account the valid legal retention periods, as soon as it is no longer required for the respective purpose, for example when the processing of your enquiry has been concluded.

5. Cookies

We utilise cookies in order to provide you with the functions of our website. For additional information about the cookies which we utilise, please refer to our Cookie Notice [<https://training-railservices.knorr-bremse.com/cookies>].

6. What rights do I possess?

You always possess the following rights, insofar as the legal prerequisites are fulfilled:

- To receive information about the personal data concerning you,
- to request correction and/or comprehensive completion of incorrect or incomplete data,
- to request the deletion of your personal data,
- to request a restriction for processing your personal data,
- to request the transfer of your personal data within the framework of the valid, existing legal requirements,
- to submit an objection for processing your personal data.

Insofar as we process your personal data on the basis of your consent, then you can always revoke this consent at any time. The revocation of consent will not have any effect on the lawfulness of the processing which has been executed on the basis of the consent until the revocation is received.

7. Who can you contact when you have questions or wish to exercise your rights?

When you have any questions regarding data protection or you might wish to exercise your rights, then please contact the Knorr-Bremse data protection organisation at privacy@knorr-bremse.com.

We always take your enquiries and concerns very seriously and will endeavour to address them promptly. Furthermore, you also retain the right to lodge a complaint with a competent data protection supervisory authority at any time. In Bavaria, the competent supervisory authority is the Bavarian State Office for Data Protection Supervision (BayLDA), Promenade 18, 91522 Ansbach.

Amendments

We retain the right to amend our data protection notice from time to time. All amendments will be published on this page.
